

Roadmap To Everlasting Love

R Responsibility: respectfully taking stock, honoring reflection and acceptance. Be responsible to love yourself first and always communicate to each other with "I feel" rather than "you are" as it is received much easier on the heart.

O Opening to change: peel the emotional layers that hover around the heart. Our stories have a way of "getting in the way" of a peaceful and easy everlasting love experience. Trust and only trust can bring an opening.

A Awareness: as trust builds upon love, learning and using new ways to delve into the heart of the matter will help you avoid lessons you don't want have to repeat over and over again.

D Determination, discernment & discipline: the three D's will help you jump through the hoops of doubt.

M Manifestation: bring it on! Once you master the three D's, you will manifest everlasting choices, which brings balance, wholeness & healthy future.

A Allowing: the loving presence ~ can you feel it yet? This can be tricky so make sure you are allowing only what feels right for you.

P Purpose and Possibilities: love is limitless and everlasting when you create with the Roadmap to Everlasting Love.
